For additional information regarding SIPC coverage, including a brochure, please contact SIPC at (202) 371-8300 or visit www.sipc.org. Alpaca has purchased an additional insurance policy through Lloyd's of London to supplement SIPC protection known as Excess SIPC Coverage. The additional insurance becomes available to customers in the event that SIPC limits are exhausted. The excess coverage provides protection for any Alpaca Securities customer up to $75 million in securities and $75 million in cash, and is covered at an aggregate limit of $250 million across all Alpaca Securities customer accounts. Similar to SIPC protection, this additional insurance does not protect against a loss in the market value of securities.

The per annum rate of interest charged on the debit balance in your account is shown on this statement. This rate may change from time to time in accordance with fluctuations in interest rates. The interest is based on the average daily net debit balance in your account with us, and for the actual number of days based on an interest year of 360 days.

We are required to report to the Internal Revenue Service all cash dividends and registered bond interest credited to your account on securities held for you in our name. All dividends and interest credits should be included in your income tax return.

Any suspected inaccuracy or discrepancy in your account statement must be promptly reported to Alpaca or your broker. In order to protect your rights, including your right to SIPC coverage, please confirm any oral communication in writing and include your brokerage account number. Account positions and balance inquiries or concerns should be directed to Alpaca via email at support@alpaca.markets.

You are to promptly advise Alpaca or your broker of any material changes concerning your investment objectives or financial situation.

SEC Rule 606 requires all broker-dealers that route orders in equity securities and options to make available quarterly reports that present a general overview of their routing practices. The reports must identify the executing venues to which customer orders were routed for execution during the applicable quarter and disclose the material aspects of the broker-dealer's relationship with such venues. For further information related to Rule 606 reports, please refer to our Disclosure Library at <https://alpaca.markets/disclosures>.

Publicly Traded Partnerships. Certain transactions and distributions involving publicly traded partnership interests held by foreign persons may be subject to U.S. withholding and reporting, including under Internal Revenue Code Sections 1446(a) and 1446(f). A broker may be required to withhold 10% of the gross proceeds from sales of PTP interests and may be required to withhold on certain PTP distributions, subject to applicable exceptions and documentation. Withheld amounts are reported on Form 1042-S. For more information, visit Publicly traded partnership distributions | Internal Revenue Service. Alpaca does not provide tax advice; consult a qualified tax advisor.

For customers who opted in to Alpaca's FDIC Bank Sweep Program: Cash deposits at the banks shown are obligations of those banks. The deposit amounts are not direct obligations of ours and are not securities. SIPC does not cover customer cash balances held in banks covered by FDIC insurance - FDIC insurance applies instead. You are responsible for monitoring the total amount of deposits you have at each bank if you have deposits held there outside of our Insured Deposit Cash Sweep Account Program ("Program"), to determine the extent of FDIC insurance available to you. Each day, interest is calculated on the applicable balance and the daily interest amount is rounded to the nearest mil ($0.001). Therefore, no interest may be paid if the daily calculated amount is less than half a mil. Interest is paid out and posted once a month, generally in the third week of the month. The interest rate paid under the Program on cash investments in your account may vary or there may be no interest paid if your account is introduced by a broker partner who has a separate agreement with us for your account. The "Month End Cash Balances" figure includes only settled cash on deposit. FDIC holdings reflected in your brokerage account are FDIC insured up to applicable limits and held by one or more banks ("Program Banks"). Your current balance in the Program can be remitted to you upon request; fees may apply. We may, without your prior affirmative consent, modify our current Program, stop offering a Cash Sweep Account Program, change the product to which the cash in your account is automatically swept, or change the mechanism by which it is swept. For information about FDIC insurance and its limits, our participating banks as well as other important disclosures about our Program, please refer to our Disclosure Library at <https://alpaca.markets/disclosures>.

For customers who opted into Alpaca's Fully Paid Securities Lending Program (FPSL): Your fully paid securities may be loaned out in exchange for collateral at least equal to their market value. Loaned securities may not be protected under the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970. Participation in FPSL is subject to the program terms. Please refer to our Disclosure Library at <https://alpaca.markets/disclosures>.

U.S. Treasury bills (T-Bills) are short-term obligations (1 year or less out from their maturity date) issued by the U.S. government and are generally considered low-risk investments. They are sold at a discount and mature at face value. T-Bills are highly liquid, non-callable, and backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government. Interest income from T-Bills is subject to federal income tax but is generally exempt from state and local taxes. Please refer to our Disclosure Library at <https://alpaca.markets/disclosures>.

Unless you notify Alpaca otherwise, the following IRS default income reporting methods will apply: Bond Premium will be amortized using the constant yield method (IRC §171). Market Discount will be deferred and reported as ordinary income at sale or maturity using the constant yield method (IRC §1276)

Orders placed outside regular trading hours (9:30 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. ET) may experience price fluctuations, partial executions, or delays due to lower liquidity and higher volatility. Orders not designated for extended hours execution will be queued for the next trading session. Additionally, fractional trading may be limited during extended hours. For more details, please review Alpaca's Extended Hours Trading Risk Disclosure at <https://alpaca.markets/disclosures>.
